

Ms. Emilija ŽEBRAUSKAITĖ

Paris, France / Beijing, China

E-mail: emilija.zebrauskaite@sciencespo.fr | Phone: +370 680 54071

EDUCATION

Peking University | Beijing, China

09/2025 – 06/2026

Master's in International Relations

- Relevant courses: Chinese political economy; Chinese foreign policy; green development and industrial policy in China; energy transitions; global value chains; climate diplomacy
- Stanford Center at Peking University: US and China's approaches to managing global challenges: climate change; food and water security; nuclear proliferation; economic development; cyberspace
- Master's thesis: digitalisation and platform integration in China's energy transitions

Sciences Po | Paris, France

09/2024 – 06/2025

Master's in International Energy Transitions

- Relevant courses: energy economics; energy modelling; climate finance and green investment; energy policy; renewable integration and grid flexibility; energy market design and regulation; carbon markets and emissions trading systems; sustainable supply chains and resource governance
- World Hydrogen Week Rising Stars Programme: selected as one of three students, representing the programme at the World Hydrogen Week in Copenhagen

University of Navarra | Pamplona, Spain

09/2019 – 06/2023

Bachelor's in International Relations

- Graduated with academic distinction; Honours in 10 out of 45 courses
- Awarded Best Final Thesis (Class of 2023) with Honours
- Relevant courses: international law; foundations of energy geopolitics and global resource governance; global governance; policy analysis; institutional frameworks; international political economy

East China University of Political Science and Law | Shanghai, China

09/2022 – 01/2023

International Relations in Asia Program

- Relevant coursework: Asian politics; China's role in international affairs and sustainable development
- Completed advanced Chinese language coursework with Honours

Hebrew University of Jerusalem | Jerusalem

05/2022 – 06/2022

International Relations in the Middle East Program

- Relevant coursework: Middle Eastern geopolitics; energy geopolitics and supply chains; resource-related issues in the region; political economy; resource-linked political risks; cross-border economic dependencies

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Research Council of Lithuania | Vilnius, Lithuania / Remote Work

07/2024 – 09/2025

Policy and Data Analyst

- Prepared analytical briefs and internal reports on digitalisation trends and AI in science governance, informing funding decisions on sustainability- and low-carbon transition-related research priorities
- Managed and analysed large-scale research and funding databases, delivering data-driven insights and visualisations to support strategic investment in innovation and sustainability-focused research ecosystems

European Parliament | Strasbourg, France

09/2023 – 01/2024

Schuman Trainee – Policy & Research

- Supported the organisation and delivery of high-level conferences, panel discussions, workshops, and public engagement events, including logistics coordination and briefing preparation
- Conducted policy research and analysis on the implementation and external communication of the EU Green Deal, focusing on energy transition, climate policy, and sustainability governance

RESEARCH AND PUBLICATIONS

European Guanxi

07/2026– ongoing

- Research contributor to forthcoming publications: “From Harmony with Nature to Ecological Civilization: The Legal Translation of Chinese Philosophy in China’s Environmental Code”

PKU–Harvard Global Accelerator for Food System Transformation (GAFTS) Institute of Carbon Neutrality | Beijing, China

03/2025 – 06/2025

- Conducted research on China’s climate and energy policy landscape, including emissions trading systems, food systems regulation, and sustainability frameworks
- Examined the role of emerging technologies including blockchain and AI analytics in improving transparency and efficiency in food systems, contributing to research on food-energy nexus in China

Research Assistant

05/2022 – 06/2023

Prof. Michaël Tanchum of Middle East Institute & Nanyang Technological University

- Analysed solar PV, CSP, wind, and green hydrogen projects; Studied electricity interconnections and water-energy projects; Researched renewable energy ecosystems and employment impacts
- Contributed to the publications: “Renewable Energy and Morocco’s New Green Industries” – Middle East Institute; “Africa’s Maritime Hydrogen Highways Could Enrich the Continent and Save the World” – The National; “Mapping MENA’s Renewable Energy Supply Chains” – Middle East Institute

Global Affairs and Strategic Studies Program, University of Navarra

12/2019 – 05/2022

Research Analyst & Writer

- Researched and wrote analytical articles on geopolitics, energy transition, and international trade for academic and policy publications
- Published: “Iran: Regional Nightmare and International Concern” – Global Affairs and Strategic Studies; “The transformative role of women leaders in the fight against corruption in Uganda” – Revista CIDOB d’Afers Internacionals

PROGRAMMING & TECHNICAL SKILLS

- Tools: Python, SQL, Microsoft Office, Microsoft Teams
- Data Analysis & Visualisation: Power BI, Plotly, Matplotlib, Seaborn
- Machine Learning: Scikit-learn, TensorFlow

LANGUAGES

- English – Professional working proficiency
- Spanish – Professional working proficiency
- Mandarin Chinese – HSK5
- French – Upper-intermediate

VOLUNTEERING

Cloudberry Farm | Gimhae, South Korea

10/2022 – 11/2022

- Delivered sustainability-focused education through hands-on eco-farming activities; designed and led workshops on environmental awareness for children; promoted sustainable practices and community engagement

English Adventure | Tokyo & Tsunan, Japan

07/2019 – 09/2019

- Led educational programs for children incorporating nature-based and environmental learning; promoted sustainability awareness through outdoor and intercultural activities; managed group coordination and communication in an international setting

Community Outreach Volunteer | Negros Occidental, Philippines

07/2017 – 04/2018

- Delivered educational support with elements of environmental and community awareness; promoted basic sustainability practices and responsible resource use in local contexts